III. Reading Comprehension: 10%

Caleb Watts lives on a ranch with his mother and father in the Australian Outback. The Outback is a wild, untamed place full of hills and fields. Caleb's father said it was always his dream to live on a ranch in the Outback. However, Caleb dislikes the ranch. Caleb misses the conveniences of living in a place with shopping malls and restaurants. Sometimes, he even misses going to school. At first, he thought it would be fun to take classes online. Now, he misses having friends.

There is a billabong next to Caleb's house. A billabong is an oasis of water in the barren Outback. Many animals such as the dingo, a type of wild dog, drink at the billabong. Last year, Caleb saw a young dingo drinking at the billabong. He named the dingo Archie. Every day, Caleb would leave some food beside the billabong for Archie. Whenever he played with the dingo, Caleb felt less alone.

One day, Caleb's father came home late from a trip around the ranch in his truck. "Today," said Caleb's father, "I shot a dingo on our ranch! I saw it running around next to the billabong near our house." Caleb ran to his bedroom and started to cry. He didn't think he could forgive his father. Later that night, Caleb saw Archie outside. His father shot a different dingo on the ranch.
